Wildlife Photographer
presents "My Five Year Journey"

Thursday 23 February 2017 - 7.45pm to 9.45pm

Jamie began photography in 2010 by accident & from that day he discovered a previously unknown passion for the hobby and in 2012 quit his job to pursue a full time career in wildlife photography. He is completely self-taught and his inventive images resulted in him winning the Urban Wildlife category of the British Wildlife Photography Awards in 2013. Jamie concentrates on using the DSLR camera trap concept to capture normal behaviour in a variety of species & again won the Wildlife Camera Trap category in the BWPA in both 2013 and 2014.
